I decided to rearrange the furniture in my cabin so the space would work better for me. I now have a chair with a back at the desk, a chair with a place to sit and put my feet up and see the tv. I also separated the beds, I sleep in one and spread my papers, pictures or what ever I'm working on the other bed. It took me all day to unpack and get everything put away, but now I'm set to have this for my home for the next 4 months. I met the man that will be cleaning my cabin and he seems very nice.
