At Sea

With the two days At Sea I have been able to get caught up on pictures and posting to my journal-website. Today is going to be a rest day. Our next port is Buenos Aires for two days. They delivered the group picture that was taken when we crossed the Equator at Lat 0-0-00. There were about 50 of us who were crazy enough to get up at 3:00 for the scheduled 3:30 crossing that actually happened at 5:02. It was like a New Years Eve celebration, lots of people dancing and toasting in the Disco Lounge.

Tonights Theatre Show: SOPHISTICATS

When the night falls down, the cats come out of their hiding places to have a big party. It was a good show featuring the ships dancers, singers and acrobats.
