

Day 30 Page 1
January 9, 2023
Cadiz, Spain

We were scheduled to dock in Lisbon, Spain but the dock workers are on strike so they scheduled us to go to Cadiz, Spain. Cadiz is an ancient port city in the Andalusia region of southwestern Spain. The home of the Spanish Navy, the port boomed in the 16th century as a base for the exploration and trade. It has more than 100 watchtowers, including the iconic Torre Tavira, which was traditionally used for spotting ships. On the waterfront is the domed, 18th century Cadiz Cathedral featuring baroque and neoclassical elements, said to be the last large Cathedral in Europe. I took a bus tour of the city, not a very large city, but what impressed me was there were no homeless on the street and the streets and side walks were very clean, in fact I have been traveling for 30 days now and this is the cleanest city that I have been in. The people of Cadiz should be very proud of themselves.

The Show tonight was a one man show: Roberto Sinagoga International performer and protagonist of the musical "Notre Dame de Paris" by Riccardo Cocciante. Wasn't my taste. It seemed that some of the Europeans really enjoyed it. Suggest Evening Dress: Casual
