At Sea

We sailed all day in the Pacific Ocean with a south Western route to Hanga Roa (Easter Island). Tomorrow morning we will reach our destination after a long crossing in the Pacific Ocean. Hanga Roa is the main town, harbor and capital of Easter Island, a province of Chile. It is located in the southern part of the Island's west coast between the extinct volcanoes of Terevaka and Rano Kano. The Terevaka volcano should be visible on our portside as soon as the Easter Island is in sight. It is the largest, tallest and youngest of the three main extinct volcanoes that form the island. The third volcano, the Poike, located on the east end of the island, is the oldest.
