

Day 86 Page 1
Marche 6, 2023
At Sea

Today was a really rough day at sea, the worst that we have had so far. Around 12:30 I was at lunch aft of the ship and we were having huge swells tossing us from port and starboard and all at once the bow of ship took a dip down and the aft of the ship (fantail) raised and I honestly thought we were going down. Dishes, flatware, knives etc went flying all forward, for a few seconds it was scary. Lots of clean up in the dinning area, glass that had liquid hit the floor, broken glass, knives flying etc. The crew and everyone jumped into action and it was all cleaned up very fast. It is now 18:30 and the sea has really settled down and I'm going to the Theatre if it is open tonight.

Tonights Theatre Show: Flashback
Go back in time to the era of disco! An incredible concert featuring the Unleashed Ban and Duo Cherry Cool.

Pictures from last nigh.
Jim & Jan

John

John, Grace, Jim & Jan

