

Day 3
December 13, 2022

When we landed in Rome it was the afternoon of the 13th of December, 2022. after getting to the hotel I spent the rest of the day resting.

Day 4,
December 14, 2022

Still cold and raining so I decided to spend the day in unpacking and of course I had to rearrange the furniture in the room to fit my needs. I did go for a short walk in the rain after lunch to the bank to change U.S. dollars into Euro's and after spending 1 1/2 hours in line I was told they would not change my money, I was told that they no longer do this. In the next day or two I will try my debit card and try one of the day and night teller machines, if I can figure out how to read Italian. When I went to the bank I picked up a bottled water and it was to large to fit in my refrigerator so I sit it on the window sill out side. it's really cold out side so it works great.

